

What happens next?

The legal process to create our new Society is now underway and we expect this process to complete on the 26 January 2026. At that point, there will be a new legal name for our new Society. that reflects our shared values and heritage, as well as our ambitions for the future, From next week, members will be asked to vote on their favourite from a shortlist.

We are also beginning a carefully phased process of bringing our two Societies together, aligning our systems and ways of working so that we can deliver even greater value. We expect this to be a process that takes 2-3 years and colleagues and members will remain at the heart of this integration.

When will I know who is going to be new CEO of the new Society?

We will be providing further details on the leadership structure of the new Society in the coming weeks. and we will ensure that colleagues and members are the first to hear this information.

Who is going to be the President of the new Society?

Details of the Board of the new Society, including the President, Vice President and Secretary will also be confirmed in the coming weeks.